What You Can Do:

If you're facing a challenge with the criminal justice system, or you anticipate a challenge from a government investigation, then begin preparing for the best possible outcome.

Our team at Prison Professors helps people work toward better solutions.

Sadly, our nation incarcerates more people per capita than any nation on earth. Learn steps to get best outcomes.

Rational people do not anticipate that their actions will lead them into the criminal justice system. Yet every day, law enforcement officers bring tens of thousands of people into the system.

As recidivism rates show, the longer we expose a person to corrections, the less likely those people are to emerge successfully.

Start a process that will restore confidence and get you back on track.

We Help:

1. People get ready before court or sentencing.
2. People prepare before prison.
3. Families assist loved ones in prison.
4. Defense attorneys empower their clients.
5. People restore reputations after a criminal charge.
6. People learn about clemency options.
7. Businesses avoid government investigations.
8. Improve reentry programs in jails and prisons.

Stats to Consider

Problems:

- » The US Incarcerates more people per capita than any other nation on earth.
- » We make up 25% of the world's incarcerated population, but only 5% of the total population on earth.
- » According to the Marshall Project, the American prison system costs taxpayers nearly $100 billion per year.
- » A criminal prosecution can bring collateral consequences that include challenges in earning power.
- » If a person goes into the criminal justice system, a record exists that may influence how a person lives for the rest of his or her life.
- » Recidivism rates suggest that more than 1 out of every 2 people that go into the system will face challenges with the law again once they're released.

Solutions:

- » We create new content every day to provide people with more insight into how they can get the best possible outcomes, at different stages of the journey.
- » People can learn more about steps they can take to prepare for best outcomes through our free content that is available on our YouTube channel or through our podcast.
- » People can read our books to find best practices on how to get best outcomes from the system.
- » People can purchase our self-directed courses to learn how to prepare for lower sentences, earlier release dates, or more productive journeys through prison.
- » People can work with our mitigation experts to learn more about steps they can begin taking to improve their lives after a criminal charge.
- » Business owners can work with our team to create customized solutions that will minimize their exposure to government investigations. We create training materials to help everyone on the team reach their highest potential, without crossing lines that lead to government investigations.
